“ Enrolling in the Accounting & Finance part time degree was a huge decision and I must say rather daunting. However, the lecturing staff, and indeed everyone at Griffith College, made the transition so easy and enjoyable. Managing a full-time job, along with studies and everything else life has to give, was made easier by the consistent level of support.”

“ I left school early to pursue a career in football and I had a long successful career winning multiple trophies. After a serious injury, I decided it was time to return back to education as I could no longer pursue my football career at the time.

I started with the Certificate in Dual Career Development (Sport) course at Griffith. This gave me a good introduction to business studies. After completing that course, I progressed onto the part-time Level 8 Business course. I learned so much and it has given me so much confidence in the business environment.

It was a tough three years but an enjoyable experience. I met so many lovely people and have made some friends for life.

Gavin Peers

“ I found the blended nature of the course gave me the best of both worlds. The flexibility of the online material allowed me to balance my studies with working and raising a family, while the small class size in on-campus tutorials fostered a real sense of familiarity with my fellow learners and lecturers. This ensured I was always fully supported with my studies. I would recommend this course to anybody looking to further their education.

About the Course

This honours degree programme will help learners to appreciate fully the vital business roles played by finance, accounting, marketing, human resource management and information technology. In addition, graduates will be shown how the ever-changing business environment is influenced by political, legal, economic, social and technological factors on both a national and international scale. In first year, learners take subjects that are common to the first year of the BA (Hons) in Accounting and Finance. This model gives learners the flexibility to adjust their degree choice, if necessary, after year one. The purpose of the programme is to give learners the business skills that are in demand by companies today.

In a complex and dynamic environment learners will be able to identify changes in business requirements, and have the confidence to develop and implement new procedures to satisfy them. Learners will also be able to recognise the key characteristics governing a particular company and then identify the factors that are critical to its success. The programme syllabus, developed by Griffith College and validated by QQI, reflects the multiple requirements of today's business world. The participation and support of full-time and external lecturing staff, from a wide range of industries, has made a vital contribution to the degree's content.

BA (Hons) in Business (Marketing)

The BA (Hons) in Business (Marketing) offers learners an opportunity to specialise in the area of marketing in the final year of their degree. While the broad scope of the programme means that learners also gain a deep understanding of the many aspects of the world of business. Marketing is central to all business activities - whether in a large multinational or in a small local business.

The purpose of any business is to meet consumers' needs and wants while making a profit. This programme can open doors to a number of exciting and challenging careers. These include, but are not limited to; advertising, public relations, sales management, market research, retailing, product design and development, and branding.

BA (Hons) in Business (HRM)

The BA (Hons) in Business (HRM) allows the learner to specialise in areas of Human Resource Management in the final year of their degree. This follows on from gaining a deep understanding of the world of business in the first two years of the programme. Significant developments in the business environment have led to an increased demand for human resource management practitioners. Learners who successfully complete this programme can apply the knowledge and skills which they have gained on the programme to a wide range of business sectors.

Progression

Upon successful completion of their honours degree programme, graduates may wish to continue their studies with a postgraduate qualification in Griffith College or with one of the many third level institutions in Ireland or abroad.

“ Making a decision to return to education was not easy, but necessary. I am delighted that I made the decision to start my new journey with Griffith! I chose this particular accounting course because of the ACCA Fundamental exemptions graduates receive. I received enormous support from lecturers and peer students. Various assignments helped to apply theory I’ve learned in real life case studies, and friendly feedback gave me an opportunity to improve my business skills. During my time here, I got an opportunity to make great friends from different cultures which was also a very enriching experience. ”
